Assignment One - Documentation

XHTML/CSS Website

Student: Lázaro Henrique de Carvalho Marques

ID: 26805162

September 2016

Target Audience

The company main audience is any creature in the galaxy who is looking to transport some cargo from a place to another. It is focused specially on who pretends to transport something very precious to a place very dangerous in a very short time.

The package can go from living beings to informations, and can be delivered in any place of the Universe.

Website Purpose

The website's purpose is to show information about what the company is and what it does. It is supposed to highlight the what makes the company unique, for example, the velocity of the spaceship. More than that, it also should shows who are company's pilots and their experience.

It also provides information about what the company have done, like who they have worked with and where they have been.

A contact page is also given, where potential customers can send a message to the company or call them directly by using their hologram mail.

It can be seen basically as advertising website, containing the main information about the company, the crew and the ship that they have.

The color scheme is based on the one provided by Color Palet, on: https://coolors.co/dfff2b-292a2e-b2b4ba-ffffff-ff4059

To build the website, a cargo website was used as inspiration: http://www.universalcargo.com/

Many elements on the website came from examples provided in the W3C website, some of them are: Responsive Nav Menu,  Cards, Circular Images, Grid Style.

The company logo css style, that looks like star wars original font, came from: http://codepen.io/thatbram/pen/KuHsl
